

Ombudsman's next comment regarding the continuation of hate policy against Azerbaijanis by Armenia

The results of the Azerbaijanophobia policy formed and currently being continued by the Armenian authorities are more prominent in the comments of Armenian users on social networks.

Recently, making various baseless statements, forming strong negative opinions of Armenians against Azerbaijan and Azerbaijanis through propaganda in the Armenian press and social network segments, and raising opinions about the impossibility of peace and coexistence show that the Armenian authorities are not interested in achieving peace with Azerbaijan.

We believe that such cases inciting hatred between nations, spreading hate speech, and humiliating people due to their ethnicity are unacceptable, especially in the current post-war period, and the necessary steps should be taken to prevent these trends.
